Why list LHV’s shares on the stock exchange?

• LHV’s mission is to create Estonian capital. We want to give the Estonian people the opportunity to participate in the process, and profit as a shareholder

• LHV has taken the first step on a longer journey. Becoming a publicly traded company helps us strengthen our strategic position and provide us with the „convertible currency“ – tradable shares – required for achieving our growth targets

• LHV has always maintained the capacity of engaging the capital required for growth through closed issues. The purpose of the public offering of shares is not to maximize capital or to engage cheap capital. Capital will be engaged in a relatively low volume, above all for the purpose of strengthening our relations with existing and future customers

• We always keep our promises

LHV Bank

Objectives and prospects

- We have positioned ourselves as the third-largest full-service home bank in Estonia
  - Our long-term ambition is to become a structurally important bank in Estonia, ranking among the top three banks in terms of customer numbers and business volumes, as well as efficiency and profitability per employee

- We focus on customer relations – user convenience and customer experience
  - The key banking products and the basic offering have been established. We will continue our active sales and marketing to win new customers. We will focus on developing our e-channels. We will constantly improve our mobile bank and internet bank

- Our long-term vision is to serve as a part of a modern European banking infrastructure
  - Beyond Estonian borders, we have positioned ourselves as the next-generation fintech bank, which is able to integrate and serve as the connection point between traditional banking and the next-generation financial services. We are moving towards open banking and API, which will establish the basis for efficient cooperation with various payment service providers across Europe

LHV Asset Management
LHV Asset Management
Market overview

- LHV Asset Management is focused, above all, on mandatory pension funds.
- Mandatory pension funds make up 78% of the investment funds market in Estonia.
- NAV of assets under management: EUR 2.6 billion (December 2015).
- Number of pension fund customers: 677,000 (December 2015).
- Net fee income amounted to EUR 27 million in 2015.
- LHV Asset Management earned 27% of the pension market service fees in 2015.

Source: Financial Supervision Authority, Pension Centre.

Net fee income consists of the management fee, less depositary’s charge, Guarantee Fund payment and volume-based payments to the Financial Supervision Authority and the Estonian CSD.
LHV Asset Management

Second-pillar pension market forecast

- Mandatory pension funds are in the stage of strong organic growth, with the number of subscribers reaching the payout stage in the next few years being small
- The fee for the management of mandatory pension funds is regressive, bottoming at 0.5% upon increase in volume. Third-party expenses directly related to volume amount to approximately 0.2%
- The market’s average net management fee depends on the number of management companies (to be reduced from five to four)

LHV Asset Management

Market leader in terms of long-term yield

- LHV’s pension funds rank first in all risk categories in terms of long-term yield (10 years)
- Danske Capital AS’s funds, which were purchased by LHV, have provided second-best long-term yields
- Due to the investment strategy chosen, the short-term yields of LHV’s funds fell short of those of its competitors in the middle of 2014. This affected customer exits and new sales

Historical rates of return of the fund do not constitute a promise or an indication of the future performance of the fund. The average rates of return for the previous two, three and five calendar years: LHV Pension Fund L: 3.84%, 3.90% and 3.13%. Danske Pension 50: 5.08%, 5.04% and 3.29%; Swedbank Pension Fund K3: 4.35%, 4.17% and 3.86%; SEB Progressive Pension Fund: 3.18%, 2.98% and 2.00%. Funds operating for less than 10 years have been left out of the comparison.
LHV Asset Management

Unique sales strategy

• Customers are mainly engaged through out-of-office sales
• LHV Asset Management does not segregate the second-pillar management fees (costs are incurred at the time of sale)
• Sales are seasonal – subscribers may transfer the second-pillar funds to another fund three times a year
• A relatively weaker yield affects both loyalty and sales (e.g. second half of 2014 and first half of 2015)
LHV Asset Management
Economic results and business volumes

• Growth in net fee income has been in correlation with the growth in the NAV of funds. From the summer of 2015 the growth in net fee income has been slower

• Marketing expenses constitute an investment in business growth. Marketing expenses were lower in 2015, against the modest out-of-office sales

• Since 2013, Asset Management is able to finance further organic growth from profit. EUR 4.45 million was repaid in capital to the Group in 2015

• ROE has remained high against the drop in customer numbers. A lower ROE is expected against the backdrop of changes in fee regulations and stable or growing customer numbers

New customers fuel business growth

- Drop in active customer numbers triggered a short-term rise in fees in 2014–2015
- LHV pension funds ranked first in all categories in terms of yield in 2015, with the trend continuing in Q1 2016
- Record-breaking growth in customer numbers in Q1 and the consequent increase in marketing expenses
- Purchase of Danske Capital to add EUR 250 million to assets under management
LHV Asset Management

Purchase of Danske Capital AS

- Danske Capital funds engage 6% of second-pillar customers, but have a market share of 9% in terms of volume
- Increase in the number of middle-aged customers contributes to a rise in average amounts collected
- Customer income of LHV Asset Management is comparable with Danske Capital
- The two management companies are to be merged by the end of 2016
LHV Asset Management

Objectives and prospects

LHV Asset Management pursues the objective of offering the highest long-term yield to fund investors

- The mandatory funded pension market is in a stage of long-term organic growth
- The NAV of mandatory pension funds grew by 24% in 2015 and 19% in 2015
- In 2014 - 2017, the state’s contribution will be 50% higher for more than a half of LHV’s second-pillar customers
- LHV’s growth is supported by better long-term fund performance, compared to competitors
- The purchase and merger of Danske Capital AS will raise the number of second-pillar customers of LHV Asset Management by 30% and the NAV of second-pillar funds by 40%

Mokilizingas
Start of the year met expectations

- Consumer financing is modest in the start-of-the-year off-season. The portfolio contracted by EUR 0.5m in the quarter
- Tight price competition prompts careful selection of sales partners
- Major investments in product development. Credit card testing to commence in Q2
- Credit quality remains stable
Mokilizingas

Objectives and prospects

- Mokilizingas’ unambiguous, transparent pricing and innovative products allow the company to stand out in a highly competitive market.

- To prevent excessive merchant fees, Mokilizingas is developing its own electronic channels. Mokilizingas’s credit card will be launched (via LHV Bank) in 2016.

- The first steps have been taken towards expanding business into Latvia.

- Mokilizingas pursues the objective of building a regional high-quality consumer financing business with a minimum ROE of 20%.
Asset quality
Asset quality

Growth fuelled by business loans

- Business loans make up a bulk of the Group’s loan portfolio
- A majority of business loans involve real estate financing
- Major loans are liable to affect the risk level of the business portfolio in terms of ratings. At the beginning of 2016, the ratings of two major loans were lowered.
Asset quality

Portfolio of overdue loans remains stable

IPO - public offering of shares and listing of the shares on the Tallinn Stock Exchange
IPO

Public offering and listing of shares

LHV is planning to issue 2,000,000 new shares at a price of 6.95 euros per share. The issue of new shares amounts to 8.56% of LHV’s current shares. The issue targets Estonian retail and institutional investors. This constitutes an initial public offering of shares, with all shares of LHV to be listed on the NASDAQ Tallinn Stock Exchange Baltic Main List thereafter.

The offering period will commence on 2 May 2016 at 9:00 (local time in Estonia) and end on 16 May 2016 at 17:00 (local Estonian time).

LHV will decide on the allocation of the offered shares after the end of the offering period, on 18 May 2016 at the latest. The offered shares will be allocated to the participating investors according to the following principles:
- LHV has the right to prefer existing shareholders and bondholders to other investors;
- LHV has the right to prefer existing customers to other investors;
- all investors are treated equally under similar circumstances.

The offered shares allocated to the investors will be transferred to the investor’s securities account on or around 20 May 2016 based on the delivery-versus-payment principle, in exchange for the payment offered for the shares.

Additional information on the issue is available in the prospectus for public offering, listing and admission to trading of the shares of AS LHV Group: investor.lhv.ee

The interim report for Q1 2016 is available on LHV’s website at: https://www.lhv.ee/en/for-investors/reports/interim/
Investing in the securities issued by LHV Group entails various risks. Every potential investor should thoroughly consider the risks involved, the scope and probability of the risks, and other relevant circumstances. If the risks materialize, investors may lose a part or all of the value of their investment. Below, please find examples of risks which, if materialized, may reduce the value of LHV and the securities issued by LHV.

Counterparty credit risk. Counterparty credit risk is inherent to the core operations of the LHV. Counterparty credit risk is the risk of potential loss which may arise from counterparty’s inability to meet its obligations to the LHV companies.

Concentration risk. The operations of the LHV are subject to concentration risk, which by essence is a risk arising from the overall spread of outstanding accounts over the number and variety of customers. If loans are heavily concentrated in a certain economic sector, the LHV is exposed to risks inherent to such economic sector.

Market risk. Market risk arises from the LHV’s trading and investment activities in the financial markets, primarily in interest rate products, foreign exchange and stock markets as well as from borrowing activities and other means of taking in financial resources.

Foreign currency risk. Foreign currency risk arises primarily from the acquisition of securities denominated in foreign currencies or from foreign currency receivables and liabilities.

Price risk. LHV holds positions in different financial instruments, which are subject to fluctuations in market price arising from various circumstances beyond the control of LHV.

Interest rate risk. The operations of LHV and foremost the operations of LHV Bank are inherently exposed to interest rate risk. Interest rates are affected by numerous factors beyond the control of the LHV companies, which may not be estimated adequately.

Liquidity risk. Liquidity risk relates to the ability of the LHV to meet its contractual obligations on time and it arises from differences between maturities of assets and liabilities.

Summary of risks (II)

Operating risk. Operating risk is a risk of potential loss caused by human, process or information system failures and flaws. In addition to human, process or information system failures and flaws, the operating risk embraces risk of corporate fraud and misconduct.

Dependency on information technology systems. LHV has developed and uses a variety of custom-made information technology systems and web-based solutions in carrying out its everyday business operations and providing services to its customers. Failures of or significant disruptions to LHV’s information technology systems could prevent it from conducting its operations.

Dependency on cash flows from subsidiaries. AS LHV Group is a holding company conducting its operations through the Subsidiaries. AS LHV Group itself does not own significant assets other than investments into the Subsidiaries. Therefore, in order to be able to meet its obligations arising from the Bonds, LHV is dependent on the receipt of dividends, interest payments or payments from share capital decrease from its Subsidiaries.

Dependency on qualified staff. The results of operations of LHV companies depend highly on the ability to engage and retain qualified, skilled and experienced staff. In the highly competitive environment, LHV companies must make continuous efforts to attract new qualified personnel and motivate existing management and employees.

Competitive market. LHV operates in a highly competitive market.

Exposure to conduct of other market participants. LHV’s access to financing, investment and derivative transactions may be adversely affected by market practices of other market participants.

Control over joint ventures. The operations of joint ventures (LHV Finance and Mokilizingas) may be adversely affected by the joint venture partners of LHV.

Changes in economic environment. Each of LHV’s operating segments is affected by general economic and geopolitical conditions.

Exposure to regulative changes. LHV operates in highly regulated fields of business and its operations are subject to a number of laws, regulations, policies, guidance and voluntary codes of practice, which are subject to changes.
IPO

Summary of risks (III)

Maintaining capital adequacy ratios. Credit institutions and investment firms are subject to strict capital adequacy requirements subject to frequent reforms and changes.

Exposure to regulatory actions and investigations. LHV provides various financial services and products and is therefore subject to extensive and comprehensive regulations imposed both through local and through European legal acts. Several local and European authorities, including financial supervision, consumer protection, anti-money laundering, tax, and other authorities, regularly perform investigations, examinations, inspections and audits of LHV’s business, including, but not limited to regarding capital requirements, standards of consumer lending, anti-money laundering, anti-bribery, payments, reporting, corporate governance, etc.

Contractual risks. The operations of LHV are materially dependent on the validity and enforceability of the transactions and agreements entered into by LHV.

Exposure to civil liability. LHV operates in a legal and regulatory environment that exposes it to significant risk of claims, disputes and legal proceedings.

Tax regime risks. Tax regimes of the geographical markets where LHV operates are from time to time subject to change, some of which may be dictated by short-term political needs and may therefore be unexpected and unpredictable.
